What Next? NEXT: A New Century in Review

Earlier this year, from July 30 to August 1st, current and future leaders of the Order of the Arrow flocked to Indiana University of Bloomington, IN to receive training to prepare themselves for this new century of the Order. Many social media posts, gatherings for shows, spikeball sessions, and innovative ideas were present at NEXT: A New Century this past summer.

There were representatives from all over SR-7B in attendance.

The four days of the program, Brotherhood, Innovation, Membership and Program day, all hot topics of the Order to help bring it into this next century. There, each participant was able to learn from “so many new perspectives”, as said by Gray Barnhill, Past Lodge Chief of Occoneechee Lodge. It was a great time for training and developing the future of the Order of the Arrow!

Camp Feature – Cherokee Scout Reservation

In April of 2018 Tsoiotsi Tsogalii will be hosting Conclave at Cherokee Scout Reservation (CSR). CSR is a resident summer camp for the Old North State Council's Summer Boy Scout Program and is located right in the heart of Caswell County. Comprising of around 1800 acres, there were originally 4 different plans for the camp. CSR is currently on Camp 1 which was designed for its purpose to hold a Merit-Badge Program. Cherokee Scout Reservation also has a very well-known and admired Waterfront program that has earned department of the year with the staff several times and also brings back many troops year after year. The camp also has a phenomenal summer camp program overall that has attracted many troops over the years from as far as Europe. After being founded by Allen "Doc" Lewis in 1968, the camp still stands strong and is currently undergoing construction and remodeling to keep the camp growing and exceeding standards. Cherokee has also been recognized nationally for Forestry efforts started back in 2003 and has been the only Boy Scout Camp achieve the Model Forest distinction awarded by the Forest Guild. Overall CSR has built a great reputation and program through scouting and we are excited to invite you to our home in 2018 to celebrate the 50th anniversary of Cherokee Scout Reservation!
